Fonda Williams explained that with this Joint Economic Development District the City of Canton came to Jackson Township instead of Jackson Township proposing the idea to Canton. He said Stolle Machinery was located within the city limits and had outgrown the facility they were in. He said they were looking for a larger space and found a warehouse in Jackson Township that would accommodate them.

Gonzalez explained the financial aspect that goes with the JEDD. He explained that the company was looking to move out of State and this agreement kept the jobs here in Canton and Stark County.
